Ecosystem Supporters

About the Organizers

The Payments Council of India (PCI), formed in 2008, is the premier industry body representing the full spectrum of India's digital payments ecosystem. PCI brings together payment networks, aggregators, payment banks, PPIs, and fintech innovators to champion industry collaboration, regulatory dialogue, and policy alignment. It actively drives research, consultations, whitepapers, and market-shaping initiatives, while also enabling international collaborations, ecosystem showcases, and knowledge-sharing programs to strengthen India's global leadership in payments.

The National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI), established in 2008, is the umbrella organization driving India's retail payments and settlement infrastructure. It has revolutionized digital payments through innovations like UPI, RuPay, IMPS, BHIM, and FASTag. NPCI continues to power India's transition to a secure, accessible, and inclusive digital economy.

The Fintech Convergence Council (FCC), established in 2018, represents fintechs and digital financial service providers across lending, insurance, wealth, RegTech, Agri and more. FCC leads public advocacy, creates thought leadership content—including reports, whitepapers, and events—and runs market access and expansion programs for startups looking to grow in India or globally. Its initiatives include study tours, policy roundtables, and investment missions to key fintech geographies worldwide.
